STATEMENT FROM COUNCIL PRESIDENT STEPHANIE RAWLINGS-BLAKE

This is a difficult and sad time for Baltimore. My goal is making sure that the City is protected and that public safety and essential services are maintained. I am urging everyone in City Government to do the same and I have every confidence that City leadership will work cooperatively to ensure an orderly transition of power.

Baltimore and the people who live here have a history of successfully meeting challenges and uniting during times of adversity, and that's exactly what we will do now. As a people and city, we will remain strong, rise to this current challenge, and continue to protect public safety and deliver essential services.
